

PACIFIC NORTHWEST KEY COUNCIL

FALL FORAY November 3 - 5, 2006

Return to Cornet Bay
Whidbey Island - Washington

Finally the rains have appeared and the mushrooms must follow. The fall foray this year will be a return to the Cornet Bay Environmental Learning Center on beautiful Whidbey Island. The key council has collected here a number of times and it has been a very productive late season collecting area. The center is located nine miles north of Oak Harbor, Wash. and nine miles south of Anacortes, on Whidbey Island in Puget Sound. Directions:

From Seattle:

Drive north on I-5 to exit 230, then travel 18 miles west on SR 20 toward Oak Harbor. Park entrance is on right, one mile south of Deception Pass Bridge.

From the Mukilteo-Clinton Ferry:

Drive north on Hwy. 525, which changes to Hwy. 20. Drive 50 miles to park entrance on left.

We will have talks on Friday and Saturday nights with a student talk on Saturday afternoon. Food will be prepared by Katie Parker, Drew Parker's wife.

PNWKC Fall REGISTRATION

NAME(S) _____

ADDRESS _____ CITY _____ STATE/ZIP _____

TELEPHONE _____ e-mail _____ vegetarian? _____

PLEASE REGISTER BY October 21 for an accurate number for meal planning.

MAKE CHECK FOR $70 U.S. or $55 for mycology student discount rate, payable to Pacific Northwest Key Council in U.S.$, and mail to Coleman Leuthy, 2455 E. Lake Washington Boulevard, Seattle WA 98112.

For members of the Pacific Northwest Key council please add $10 for annual dues. Those members who are unable to attend please be sure to send your annual dues to keep your membership current.